Green Cherry Creek apartment available

By John Rebhook, on April 5th, 2010

The $55 million Seasons of apartment community in Cherry Creek is loaded with green and luxury features.

RedPeak Properties today announced it has begun leasing the Seasons of Cherry Creek apartment, the first green apartment high-rise community of its kind in Cherry Creek. The 13-story Seasons is the first apartment community in Denver to receive the "Built Green" designation.

The new property is targeting a growing demographic of people who are making the decision to rent rather than own and have the burden of a mortgage.

"The Seasons provides many of the same luxuries that the new condo developments in Denver offer, but with people in mind who would rather rent than own a luxury residence," said Mike Zoelner, chief executive officer. Monthly rents start at $1,880 for the large units.

"We're filling an important niche by providing the option to lease rather than own a residence with access to 24-hour concierge, a media lounge and demonstration kitchen, a large fitness and massage therapy center, a private dog park, dry cleaning valet service and more. People who want the best an apartment building can offer will find it at The Seasons," Zoelner said.

The Seasons, within walking distance of the Cherry Creek Mall and Cherry Creek North, includes 148 new high-rise apartments which are part of a $55 million expansion of the iconic The Seasons of Cherry Creek apartment community. With the addition of the new apartments, the community now has 587 luxury apartments in three high rise towers. The property offers a variety of monthly rental rates for one-bedroom plus den, two-bedroom and three-bedroom floor plans. There are other smaller green apartment buildings in Denver, too.

First Built Green apartment community

In addition to first class amenities and services, The Seasons was the first for-rent multifamily project accepted into Built Green Colorado's multifamily pilot program. As part of the pilot, RedPeak implemented "green" standards designed to increase energy efficiency by 15 percent.

"Our new Built Green apartments symbolize RedPeak's environmentally responsible approach to real estate development and our commitment to creating distinctive living environments," said Zoelner. "As the first apartment development to be accepted into Built Green Colorado's Multi-family Pilot Program, this building symbolizes the great things that happen when people harness their collective inspiration, ingenuity and humanity to achieve a singular goal: to provide a healthy and sustainable living experience to the people who call us 'home.'" The Seasons' green features and apartment amenities include: 100% smoke-free living; use of locally manufactured and recycled sustainable materials; used water-based, low-VOC paints and Shaw recyclable carpeting in all social spaces; extensive use of natural light and photocell switches; generous use of sustainable Travertine and porcelain tile; chemical-free mineral filtration pool system; full recycling with separate trash chutes on each floor; Energy Star appliances; upgraded energy-efficient exterior windows and doors; programmable thermostats; dual flush toilets and low-flow fixtures; large, efficient floor plans; floor-to-ceiling windows; hardwood flooring; upgraded insulated window treatments; slab granite countertops in kitchens and baths; custom cabinetry; soaking tubs; frameless shower doors; large walk-in closets; reserved garage parking; gas fireplaces; individual washer & dryer; private balcony with gas grill; demonstration kitchen; media lounge; private wine cellars; concierge services; bike maintenance and storage facility; Denver B-cycle Bike Sharing Program location;

Large floor plans

The Seasons expansion includes large floor plans. One-bedroom plus den floor plans range from 945 square feet to 1,195 square feet; two-bedroom floor plans range from 1,282 square feet to 1,512 square feet; and three-bedroom floor plans range from 1,652 square feet to 1,811 square feet. Rental rates range from $1,880 to $3,850 per month. Residents will also enjoy full access to the existing amenities at The Seasons of Cherry Creek, including its 10,000-square-foot private health club, complimentary yoga and Pilates classes, massage therapy and personal training services and private dog park. In addition, the site was selected as a Denver B-cycle Bike Sharing Program location.

All apartments are available for immediate move-in. Currently, all new leases are eligible for $2,400 in savings, representing a discount of $200 per month.

"We are proud to offer an environmentally friendly luxury rental option in Cherry Creek, a neighborhood epitomized by extremely high housing costs and very few rental options," said Zoelner. "Our brand-new Built Green apartments provide new opportunities for Denverites to lead the ultimate urban lifestyle in one of Denver's most prestigious – and walkable – neighborhoods with the amenities and finishes typically found in for-purchase housing."

Fentress the architect

The Seasons expansion was designed by Fentress Architects. Saunders Construction was selected as the general contractor for the project. The expansion of The Seasons of Cherry Creek represents RedPeak's first ground-up development since the company was founded in 2001.

The Seasons' leasing office is located at 3498 E. Elsworth Avenue, just two blocks east of the Cherry Creek Mall in Denver. Leasing information, including floor plans, photos, pricing and availability, can be found at this link or by calling 303.394.4333.
