Allison Moledo, Director of Training and Recruiting at RedPeak, is elected to sit on The Board of Directors for the Apartment Association of Denver

DENVER – April 2014 – RedPeak Properties, one of the most respected apartment owners, investors and developers in Denver, is proud to announce that Allison Moledo has been elected to sit on the Board of Directors for the Apartment Association of Metro Denver (AAMD). This win is especially significant because this is the first year every apartment community received a ballot in addition to each company.

The AAMD is governed by its Board of Directors. The Board receives and evaluates reports of the Committees, Councils, Task Forces and the AAMD staff. Board members play a critical role in decision making for the Denver area apartment industry. Allison brings 15 years of property management and leadership experience to the board. Her diverse experience in sales, marketing, customer service, team building, and effective training programs will add tremendous value to the board.

Mark Windhager, RedPeak COO and former President of the AAMD said, “Allison has been with RedPeak for 3 years and has drastically improved our training programs and Team Member engagement. She is a valuable member of our senior leadership team and helps guide our operational strategy. She will be a huge asset to the AAMD as it continues its goal to provide educational and legislative service to our industry.”
